

Two Recipients Chosen For Honorary Degrees

Wartburg College will confer two honorary degrees during its 112th annual commencement May 29.

Receiving a degree will be Dr. Theodore Roosevelt Speigner, director of Resource-use Education and associate professor of geography at North Carolina College, Durham, N.C.

Fred W. Lentz of Beatrice, Neb., will also be receiving a degree.

Dr. Speigner will receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree, and Lentz will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Dr. Speigner is being cited for his contributions to education and to his race through his profession. He is the first Negro in the United States to receive a Ph. D. in Conservation and Conservation Education.

He was also the second Negro to be ordained into the ministry of the American Lutheran Church. He received his Ph. D. from the University of Michigan in 1961 and his theological diploma from Capital University in 1941.

Dr. Speigner began his professional career in 1930 as principal of St. Paul's Lutheran School in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

He joined the History Department at North Carolina College in 1947 and a year later became director of Resource-use Education there.

He has maintained that position until today, except for 1959-60, when he was a "teaching fellow" in the Department of Conservation at the University of Michigan.

He has developed techniques for integrating religious concepts in the teaching of Western Culture for freshmen and Resource-use Education materials for teaching science and social studies in North Carolina Public Schools.

At present he is engaged in evaluating the Resource-use Education program of North Carolina College for 10 years.

Positions currently held by Dr. Speigner include president of the American Teachers Association and president of the Piedmont District Teachers Association of the North Carolina Teachers Association.

He is also state chairman of the North Carolina Resource-use Education Conference, vice chairman of the Board of American Missions of the ALC and secretary of the National Lutheran Council's Committee on Interracial Relations.

Fred W. Lentz, who has been on Wartburg's Board of Regents for the past 13 years, will receive his degree because of "outstanding, intelligent and truly effective lay leadership," according to the Committee on Appointment and Rank.

He is currently a businessman in Beatrice where he also holds several key positions on the state level.

Besides serving as a director of the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce, Lentz has presided for three terms over the Nebraska Tax Research Council and is now one of its directors. He is also a member of the Beatrice Lutheran Hospital Board.

Lentz has also been a member of the Y.M.C.A. and the Humanities Committee of Nebraska. He was instrumental in developing the Martin Luther Home for Handicapped Children into one of the outstanding institutions of its type.

Lentz and Speigner will receive degrees along with 212 Wartburg students, the largest class ever to graduate here.

Dr. Jerald C. Brauer, dean of the Divinity School, University of Chicago, will deliver the Commencement address.

Five Coeds Will Compete Tonight In Annual Miss Waverly Pageant

By Marvin Ackerman

THESE FIVE WARTBURG coeds will compete for the title of Miss Waverly tonight. They are, left to right, La Rae Chellevoid, Carol Wessels, Catherine Carroll, Kathryn Bishop and Susan Sutliff.

Five Wartburg women along with six from the Waverly-Shell Rock High School will be competing tonight for the title of Miss Waverly. The pageant will be held in the Chapel-auditorium at 8 p.m.

Wartburg Coeds in the contest are freshmen LaRae Chellevoid, Milwaukee, Wis., and Catherine Carroll, LaGrange, Ill.

Carol Wessels, Independence; Sue Sutliff, Seymour, Wis., and Kathy Bishop, Chicago, Ill., are the other contestants. All are sophomores.

The 11 contestants will be guests at a dinner at Carver's Restaurant at 5:30 this evening. There they will have a chance to become acquainted with the judges and the other contestants.

At this pre-contest dinner they will be judged on etiquette, ability to get along with others and personality.

During the pageant itself, judging will be based on beauty both in evening gown and swim suit competition. A three-minute display of talent will conclude the competition. Talent selections range from singing and modeling to modern dancing.

Sophomore Janice Friedrichs, Miss Waverly of 1964, will preside over the event until the new queen is crowned.

The new Miss Waverly will receive a trophy and a $100 scholarship to the school of her choice. She will also be given an evening gown to be worn in the Miss Iowa Pageant, which will be held in July at Clear Lake.

Judges for the event are Mrs. Virgil Shepard, State Board of Instruction, Allison; Mrs. Catherine Young, Young's Beauty School, Waterloo and David Kyler, 1964 Waterloo pageant director. Other judges are Earl Freshwater, photographer from National Studios, Waterloo, and Hugh Patterson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Waterloo.

For talent Miss Chellevoid, Miss Wessels and Miss Bishop will sing. Miss Carroll will do a modern dance, and Miss Sutliff will present a dramatic reading.

A special award will be given to the contestant who displays the best talent. An award will also be given to the one selected as Miss Congeniality. This person is selected by vote of the other contestants in the pageant.

The 1965 Miss Waverly Pageant is under the sponsorship of the Waverly Jaycees. Chairman of the event is John Hantleman of Lutheran Mutual.

Seniors Take Rest

There is a reason why the Trumpet is wearing green this week, and it's not because it was dyed to match the latest whim in fishpond coloring.

Editor Helene Kurtz and her weary crew of senior writers are taking the week off to give next year's "green" staff a try at sounding forth the news.

Seniors To Lead Band Wed.

Wartburg College Concert Band will present an outdoor band concert on the Luther Hall Mall, Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. according to Robert E. Lee, director.

Selected numbers will be conducted by senior instrumental majors. James Tjaden will direct "Concertino for Winds and Percussion" by John J. Morrissey. August Knoll's selection is "Hymn and Fuguing Tune" by Henry Cowell. Edwin Timmi will conduct "If Thou Be Near" by J. S. Bach.

Ronald Burrichter will continue the concert with "Symphonic Suite" by Clifton Williams. Karen Wilken will do "Gigi Selections" by Frederick Loewe. Several marches are also on the program.

Director Lee reports that in case of inclement weather, the concert will be held in the Chapel-auditorium.

Editor Will Soon Complete Memorable Year

By Katie Maahs

"You need a little printing ink running through your veins to want to spend some 20-odd hours a week working on the Trumpet, but it really is a satisfying job," said retiring Trumpet Editor Helene Kurtz.

Helene has many fond memories of working as editor-in-chief. One of them is winning $150 for the shortest editorial she has ever written. Another is her jet flight to New York City to attend the Associated Collegiate Press Convention last fall.

Her contacts with the members of the faculty and administration gave her a great opportunity to meet people whom she would not have ordinarily met.

As far as Helene knows, she is the only student on campus who is a direct third generation descendant of a Wartburg graduate. Her grandfather graduated from Old Main in 1893. Unlike her predecessors, however, Helene does not plan to go into the ministry.

There have been Kurtz's on this campus since 1949, although it will be many years before another Kurtz comes to Wartburg. Both of Helene's brothers, Philip and Harold, also graduated from here.

"Two things," the editor commented, "continue to amaze the people who know me. One is that my father is a minister and the other is that I am a P. E. major."

Of course, there were a few disappointing factors connected with the editorship. The job requires a lot of time and because of this she could not always participate in extracurricular activities, such as Women's Athletic Association and the coed intramural games.

"Getting up at 6 a.m. every Saturday morning to take the copy downtown to the Independent and Democrat to get it printed was the hardest part of being editor. It was especially difficult in mid-winter when the dorm was completely silent," Helene commented.

Another problem was that if she had tests scheduled for the end of the week she either had to forget sleep or studying because the Trumpet had to come out.

Until the last few weeks Helene has enjoyed writing editorials because she usually had a list of topics to write about. Quite often research required much of her time to make accurate editorials.

She has tried to avoid sounding like a preacher, but has been getting disgusted with herself lately for doing just that.

Despite the great amount of time she spends on the Trumpet, Helene still manages to play golf once in a while.

"It is most gratifying to have a dependable staff to help and the worthy guidance of Mrs. Garland, who is always willing to give her assistance.

"I think it is unfortunate that no one realizes the number of people who spend hours putting out the paper. They too often receive little or no recognition," she admonished.

Helene's hope is that she will always be able to write. She plans to do free-lance writing for Sunday school papers and small magazines. Eventually, she wants to combine the best of her talents as P.E. teacher with that of homemaker.

Asked if she would do it all over again, Miss Kurtz answered, "Probably 'yes,' but I do not say this with too deep a conviction. I am happy for the experiences I have had and I have enjoyed working with so many wonderful people."

Pride Peeks Through

An unusual phenomenon took place recently at Wartburg. We witnessed a side of our student body which we either are not exposed to or don't take the time to look for.

It all started with High School Visitation Day. Approximately four hundred high school students were visiting the campus to find out what Wartburg is all about. They got a chance to tour the physical features of the college in the morning. They were also honored guests at Wednesday morning's convocation. (The fact that not too many "hosts" were there, we will temporarily disregard!)

At noon the visitors ate in the cafeteria. One was even heard to comment, "Gee, the food smells good." And not too many of our students who came through the line that day disagreed with him. Certainly it was not because the food was extra special, because no matter how good it is, a large share usually feel it their duty to complain. It was quite unusual.

And it wasn't the faculty and administration who were the mainstays of Visitation Day. It was, incredibly enough, students. Students served as guides for campus tours throughout the morning. They spent time prior to this learning facts about Wartburg which would enable them to answer questions which might arise.

Strange, isn't it, that many of our students can tell you how many periodicals our library subscribes to and how many majors Wartburg offers?

Even stranger, perhaps, is the fact that many of them talked enthusiastically about Wartburg to prospective students. I saw one group touring and took time to listen to what the guide was saying. No, it wasn't the gripes we usually hear among students themselves. This person actually sounded rather proud of the school.

Wartburg friendliness certainly prevailed. Many students who were not guides took the time to show visitors through dormitories and direct them to the right places. Some spent their free afternoon talking with the high schoolers.

Are we an apathetic student body? In some areas it is evident that we are. But perhaps an event like High School Visitation Day proves that there is still hope for us.

Maybe these are not strange cases of student insanity. Maybe Wartburg students really are proud of their school. Maybe, just maybe, they are the reason some of Wednesday's visitors will arrive on campus next fall to begin their journey into higher education.

Mom's The Word . . .

What are mothers, anyway? Tomorrow we'll be celebrating Mother's Day, so perhaps we'd better find out just what they're all about.

Mothers are the source of the "CARE" packages from home. They are the reason many of us are able to keep up with what's happening while we're away. They also team up with dads to supply useful funds.

But mothers are even more than these things, if that's possible. To all of us they're something special and different. They contain certain indefinable ingredients peculiar to motherhood. A corny word like "love" might sum up the feeling they portray.

And that's why we have Mother's Day. So, no matter what it means to you, or to your mother, have a happy one.

Summer, sun, heat, sunburns, tanning lotion, swimming, parties at the river, rides in convertibles, standing in the rain. Summer.

It almost looks as if nature is trying to combat our new Daylight Savings Time, all the dark cloudy days we've been having.

Overheard on campus after a rain: "I think that the name Worms would be a better name for this campus than Wartburg — traditional and certainly more appropriate."

How are we going to explain Daylight Savings Time to the roosters?

New Senate Makes Plans For Fall

By Dave Hutson

New Student Body President

In 1935 when Wartburg finally settled in Waverly as a co-educational liberal arts college, a student government was started from scratch.

First Student Senate was composed of eight students (two from each of the sophomore, junior and senior classes and one from the freshman class plus one member at large). The Senate was headed by the student body president, the now deceased August Engelbrecht.

At that time student government had no funds of its own and almost no power among the students.

Between 1945 and 1950 student government seemed to get its second wind. Much of the credit for this progress must be attributed to the installation of Dr. C. H. Becker as president of the college and Earnest Oppermann as dean of students.

Dr. Becker introduced a firm belief that closer communication between the institution and its students was needed.

Therefore, faculty-student committees were established. These committees, plus good student leadership, seem to have caused the student government's forward lunge around 1950.

Through the efforts of Omar Bonderud, student body vice-president in 1950, a constitution, which laid the groundwork for the present constitution, was drawn up.

From this beginning, the specific area of student government (academic life, student welfare, etc.) developed. Then, in 1962, the Senate became financially independent.

Seventy-five cents per student is now given to Student Senate to cover its expenses each semester.

Past accomplishments of student government are many. They include development of a dorm proctor system, on-campus dancing, student representation on faculty committees, student control of Homecoming, a social activities program, an intramural program and so on.

However, next year's Senate does not intend to live on past accomplishments but will attempt to increase the rate of progress.

The Academic Life Committee will again publish the "Student Guide Booklet." The possibility of establishing a cultural exchange program as outlined by Committee IV of the Curriculum Study Project will also be considered. Sophomore Bill Hamm will head this committee.

Development Committee, better known as the Public Relations Committee, under the direction of junior David Zimmerman will work with the political groups on campus in organizing a mock presidential election prior to the national elections.

A study of school spirit may also be conducted by this committee.

Freshman Jim Lubben will head the Student Welfare Committee next year. The student insurance program will be handled by Lubben and Co.

Other possible items of study by this committee include dormitory problems, possibility of fraternities and establishing communication with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

All social activities on campus next year will be coordinated by junior Roger Sherman and his Social Activities Committee.

This committee will attempt to secure a number of special groups, such as this year's "Erie Islanders" and "Ravens."

The possible use of local entertainment facilities in the program (as the Waverly Theater or Waverly Bowl-Inn) will be investigated.

These are some of the probable areas of action in student government next year. Additional ideas from the student body will be welcomed by the area chairmen.

Moreover, service on Senate committees will be greatly appreciated.

We have come a long way since '35, but we also have a long way to go. Progress requires a joint effort.

FOLKERTS' FOLLY

Coed Goes Hunting; Captures Male Prey

By Jim Folkerts

"Man is like a worm. He comes along, wiggles a little bit, and then some chick gets him."

This little phrase can be applied most efficiently at a great number of institutions of higher learning. Take Wartburg College, for example. How much of a chance does a bachelor male have around the campus? If we actually investigate certain circumstances, we can easily see how this situation arises.

It would certainly be interesting to know how many college women actually come to school to find a husband. In reality, the number is probably astoundingly high. Wartburg College is no exception. Women can really hustle here when they set their minds to it.

Let us sketch a hypothetical situation that applies to Wartburg in a truer sense than most males realize.

First, we need two characters. Henry is our tall, handsome, athletic, all-around American boy. He is an upperclassman, very popular and extremely studious.

How is our prize Henry reduced to nothingness? Gwendolyn arrives as a new student. She is small and pretty and has personality plus. Incidentally, she is also looking for a husband.

Henry is one of the first young men that Gwendolyn sees. A fine catch, she thinks, and she proceeds to become acquainted with Henry's friends. They serve as her source to all the needed and important information which concerns him.

We proceed to the next step. Henry is looking for a date, and one of his "friends" suggests Gwendolyn. Henry agrees and calls her. At last the long awaited moment has arrived. Henry asks for the date. Gwendolyn crosses her fingers and says, "But I don't know you."

Henry proceeds to explain who he is while Gwendolyn acts very innocent and only mildly interested. She finally agrees. During the course of the evening, Gwendolyn really builds Henry up so that he'll ask her out again. She talks and talks. At the door, she makes the situation very awkward, as only women know how. All Henry can do is ask her out for the next night.

After two or three dates our lovely Wartburg couple are going steady. Henry is proud of Gwendolyn because she is so fond of college and is looking forward to her career.

Our story progresses. They become pearly on Gwendolyn's birthday, and engaged at the next big college event, like a campus movie or a fun night at the gymnasium. They plan their wedding for the next summer.

Gwendolyn tells Henry how things will work out so beautifully for them. They can live in the trailer court and Henry's grades will improve. Gwendolyn will quit school and work to help the financial situation, since she's flunking out anyway.

Our big hero has been hooked by our innocent little schemer. Henry still doesn't realize. Gwendolyn has her fine young man whom she has been dreaming of since childhood. Of course, they'll live happily ever after. Gwendolyn knows all the moves, and Henry has always made all the important decisions.

Our typical couple has reacted typically. This may seem a little far-fetched, but every word is probably the golden truth. Ask the girls. With a threat on your breath, they may tell you.

Guys, watch out and be aware of hustling girls. Girls, good luck, because we all know you'll succeed anyway!

Oppiemen Split Double-Header, Wed.

By Chuck Ditto

Guests here for High School Visitation Day last Wednesday saw lots of action as the Knights stepped out of loop competition to host the Duhawks of Loras.

Wartburg capitalized on five Duhawk errors and made the most of its six hits to score a 9-3 victory. However, the hardballers had to settle for a split as Loras copped the nightcap 6-5.

Senior Garry Medlang was given the starting nod in the opener. This was Medlang's first start in several weeks, and he made the most of it as he notched his first victory against two defeats. Medlang also had two of the six Knight hits, including a triple.

Medlang began to show signs of tiring during the fifth inning when he got into a jam and gave up two runs before turning over the mound duties to sophomore Terry Fairchild.

Fairchild made a respectable showing in his brief relief role. He faced only seven batters and fanned three.

Junior Doyle Burn opened on the mound in the second game, and the Duhawks promptly greeted him with three consecutive singles. During his brief stay Burn was tapped for three runs and the loss. He is now 0-1.

Tom Stewart was the second of the five pitchers sent to the mound during the seven-inning tilt. Stewart stopped Loras in the first before they could score again.

Before the day was ended, Roger Baumgardner, Leon Carley and Dave Langrock made an appearance on the hurlers' hill.

Ray Bye provided a little excitement for the home crowd with a home run in each game. In the first game Bye slammed one out with two men aboard. In the second game he slammed one home with a mate on the basepads.

Wartburg made a desperate attempt to pull the second game out of the bag as the Knights came up with three runs in the bottom of the seventh, but fell one run short of their goal.

Last Saturday, the Knights captured both ends of a twin-bill by whitewashing the Peacocks of Upper Iowa 3-0 and 7-0.

Wartburg's double victory left the Knights with a 6-2 conference mark and only one game behind league-leading Luther.

Carley chalked up his fourth victory with no reversals and his third shutout of the season.

Adding his one-inning appearance with Loras to his Upper Iowa decision, Carley dropped his earned run average to a lower mark than last year with a .66.

Langrock gained the verdict in the second game, running his season record to 4-0.

Eleven Peacocks went down on strikes for the afternoon. Eight were struck down by Carley, and Langrock fanned the other three.

Wartburg came out of its hitting slump by rapping out 17 hits in the double-header.

Today the Knights travel to Storm Lake to face a tough

Buena Vista crew. A sweep of the two game series is a must if the Knights hope to stay in contention.

Buena Vista will provide a real challenge to Oppermann's mound staff. Currently, the Beavers are averaging two home runs to every one home run by the remaining teams combined.

League-leading Luther comes to Wartburg for what could be the final showdown next Tuesday.

Knights Win Triangular

By Gary Olson

Wartburg cindermen ran away with top honors in a triangular meet against William Penn and Upper Iowa University here Wednesday.

Final tabulations showed Wartburg 'way out in front with a big 97 points, followed by William Penn with 41 and Upper Iowa with 24.

In a triangular meet, four places are given. The Knights had five near sweeps, taking three out of four places in each of the five events.

Wartburg's record-breaking mile-relay team finished in the front slot ahead of William Penn.

Bob Wachholz, placing second in his home event, the javelin throw, was entered for the first time this year in the pole vault. He came up with a third place.

The strong winds and blowing dust affected the times of the runners in every event except the 100-yard dash.

This event was run from the south end of the track to the north, just the opposite of the usual direction. The time was 10.1.

In track action at Rock Island, Ill., last weekend, the Knights pulled out a second-place finish in the 23rd annual Augustana Viking Olympics.

In first place was Luther College with 77½ points. Wartburg followed with 41½. Last year the Knights ended in the fourth-place slot.

The mile-relay record for the Knights was split wide open on the all-weather track with a time of 3:24.7. Only recently the runners lowered the record to 3:26.4 at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, where they finished third in the event.

Coach Dave Olson said that he was well pleased with the effort displayed by the whole team.

"This was the greatest team effort I've seen in my four years of coaching here at Wartburg," he said.

Coach Olson named eight Knights as showing outstanding performances in the Olympics. Lowell Syverson, Jerry Meister, Jerry Zehr, Rodger Haynes, Harold Shudlick, Gary Leeper, Lothar Columbus and Jim Ras-muson were those listed.

Knights travel to Indianola Tuesday to participate in the Conference Relays.

Carley Leads Ketha Machine

Over the last few weeks the Ketha machine has been on the move in intramural sports led by Leon Carley. He took the badminton and table tennis championships with undefeated records in each.

To top off these victories, Carley was also captain of the winning coed volleyball team, which was also undefeated. Herrmann's team was second with one defeat.

Pool championship this year again went to Bob Wachholz of Vollmer House. He was undefeated in five matches. Wachholz said that he thought the competition this year was an improvement over last year.

I. M. softball tournament got underway Wednesday evening with four contests. Hopes of Clinton III Participation Award began to fade as it was defeated 2-1 by Grossmann I.

Hitless Wonders Strike Out Again

By Mike Becker

Hitters come and hitters go, but not at Wartburg. They just never seem to come. This year the Knights are hitting as a team around the .250 mark, which is better than last year, when the hitless wonders took the Conference crown for the third year in a row.

This year the competition is tougher and the hits are not coming much faster. Carrying the big sticks for the Knights have been Al Exner, Arlyn Kruger, Larry Dieterichs and Ray Bye. The first three bitters mentioned have started to taper off after a fast start, although they are still hovering around the .300 level.

Becker

★ Ray Bye has begun to smash the ball like the Bye of old, belting two homers in a twin-bill against Loras. Ray, with his tremendous speed, is a threat to go all the way every time he gets on base.

Al is a versatile switch-hitter, who worried the opposition from either side of the plate as well as from behind the plate with his slashing hits and comments.

Arlyn, a frosh, after finally being given a chance to play, responded by belting the ball with a vengeance. Although he has lost his starting position because his hitting has slackened off, he still shows a bright future. Larry, who started out slow, has come around in the last several games and has been hitting the ball with authority.

★ Hurlers for the Knights have been nothing short of tremendous. Led by that certain all-conference duo, Leon Carley and Dave Langrock, plus fireballer Garry Medlang, the Knights have received excellent pitching.

★ Leon and Dave are both the possessors of fine 40 marks with equally low errors. Leon has pitched three shutouts and has allowed only two runs in the four games he has pitched.

Dave has regained the form that made him one of the vital cogs in our championship drives back in '61 and '62. Garry, after losing a heartbreaker two weeks ago, looked as fast as ever against the Loras team on Wednesday.

★ Behind these three men who graduate in the spring, the top candidates appear to be Terry Fairchild and Rog Baumgardner. They both need more control work and more poise on the mound, but both could help the Wartburg cause greatly next year.

27 Receive Journalism Recognition

Twenty-seven students received Trumpet, Fortress and Castle awards from the respective editors at the annual Publications Awards Banquet held at Carver's Restaurant Sunday evening. The event was sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

Speaker for the event was Harold Kurtz, former Trumpet editor and Wartburg alumnus. His topic was "How To Be A Journalist Without Really Trying." He is presently public relations director at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, Ill.

Receiving Trumpet awards were seniors Dan Knobloch, Evan Bartelt, Nancy Keel, Kathryn Becker and Marilyn Post.

Juniors were Michael Becker, Harry Jebson, Gary Baumann, Owen Jordahl, Kris Benedict, Chuck Ditto, Karyl Ehlers and Jane Voigts.

Two sophomores and four freshmen also received Trumpet letters. They are Sue Kell and David Wegenast, sophomores; and Deanna Fulwider, Karen Lilly, Katherine Maahs and Gary Olson, freshmen.

First-year Fortress awards went to seniors Nancy Keel and Marilyn Post. Junior Douglas Langholtz also received an award. Second-year awards went to freshman Linda Morse and junior Mary Homan.

Senior Mary Ann Ahrendt, junior Don Judas and sophomore Marvin Ackerman received third-year awards.

Special awards were given to Helene Kurtz, Trumpet editor; Linda Stull, managing editor; and Gary Fisher, business manager.

Myrna Lau, Fortress editor, and Bob Braun, Fortress business manager, received special awards from the Fortress.

Mrs. Margaret Garland, Trumpet and Fortress adviser, presented the Trumpet best story award to Helene Kurtz. Miss Kurtz received a gold Alpha Phi Gamma pin.

Graduating senior award went to Evan Bartelt, first place, and Nancy Keel, second place. Bartelt has been the Trumpet's senior assistant, whereas Miss Keel has worked on both Trumpet and Fortress staffs. Both are English-speech-journalism majors.

Burrichter To Give Recital

Ronald Burrichter, tenor, will present his senior recital Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

He will be assisted by junior Carolyn Wulff, accompanist; junior George Curtis, French horn; senior Marie Kammerer, soprano; freshman Kathlene Kriesel, alto and sophomore Dennis Egge, baritone.

Burrichter will sing "Alma Mia" by Handel, "Ecco Ridente in Cielo" and "La Danza" by Rossini, "Che Gelida Manina (La Boheme)" by Puccini.

"Waft Her, Angels, Through the Skies (Jephtha)" by Handel, "In Native Worth and Honor Clad" by Haydn and "If With All Your Heart (Elijah)" by Mendelssohn.

Miss Kammerer, Miss Kriesel, Egge and Burrichter will sing "In a Persian Garden" by Lehmann. This number is a cycle for four solo voices.

Curtis will assist Burrichter in "Serenade," movements 'Pastorale' and 'Nocturne.'

Closing numbers will be "My Lagan Love" by Harty, "David Mourns for Absalom" by Diamond, "Music I Heard With You" by Hageman and "Wild Swans" by Duke.

Burrichter studies with Robert Larson, Vocal Department.

Pre-Registration To Begin Thurs.

Advance registration for the first semester of the 1964-1965 school year will be held Thursday and Friday in Knights Gymnasium, according to Dr. John O. Chellevoid, dean of faculty.

This year's juniors and all athletes who will be absent on Friday will register from 2 to 5 p.m. Thursday. They will be excused from classes all of Thursday afternoon.

Other Thursday afternoon classes taught by major advisers involved in registration will be dismissed unless the advisers have made different arrangements.

Sophomores will register from 8 a.m. to noon on Friday, and freshmen will register from 1 to 5 p.m. the same day.

There will be no classes on Friday and faculty members will be available for counseling in their offices.

Final Film Series Scheduled Tues.

Variety has been selected as the keynote of the final film series, to be held Tuesday in the Chapel-auditorium, according to Trevor Owen, English Department.

Instead of having one long movie, several short subject films will be shown.

"The Twelfth Day," a film which was to be shown at an earlier date, is included in the presentation. According to Owen, it is a take-off on the English song, "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

Polish films "Two Men and a Wardrobe" and "Dom" are also included. A short cartoon titled "Monroe, Time Out of War" is America's contribution. The war film concerns the Civil War and was produced by two college students.
